

Our Remedy

As a sworn public servant, who has openly and willingly committed to obeying the United States Constitution and defending it, I do agree that:

1. The Federal government is breaking and destroying the supreme law of the land.
2. We only know this through the concept of Enumerated Powers, Article 1 - Section 8, and the 10th Amendment.
3. The States are required by law to limit the Federal government; they are instead cooperating with them and facilitating their illegal activity.
4. No American is required to obey any order, law, rule, or regulation, or pay any tax, or fee, that is illegal, immoral, or unconstitutional. Law enforcement and our military are contractually protected from such requirements.
5. There exists a clear need for a national civics lesson and town hall meetings to teach Americans about the nation in which they live, the rights and powers that are theirs, their responsibilities as free people, the principles that created and sustained our nation, and the enemies of our republic.
